Practice Areas

Appellate & Writ Practice | Complex Business Litigation | Construction Litigation | Employment Litigation | Intellectual Property Litigation | Real Property & Land Use Litigation | Water Rights Litigation

With a proven track record of trying and winning complex business cases, Bret Meich counsels clients through a range of strategic decisions in order to effectively resolve disputes. He practices primarily in the area of general litigation, and he emphasizes professional, high-quality advocacy from case inception through post-trial appellate work.

Bret Meich's significant accomplishments as a litigator include serving as lead trial counsel in commercial, construction, real estate, labor, and employment matters in courts in Nevada and California. Additionally, Bret has counseled clients in numerous intellectual property disputes, including representing a technology licensor in obtaining a judgment in excess of $24 million for unpaid royalties and other damages.

For organizations of all sizes, Bret utilizes his business and government background to distill complex issues in ways that judges and juries can readily understand.

Prior to joining Downey Brand, Bret practiced at the Reno office of a large international law firm for more than six years. He also drafted bills and amendments while working for the Nevada Legislative Counsel Bureau, Legal Division during the 2007 Session.
